DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609.04(a) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because in figure 29, the leading line for reference numeral 264 should be changed to identify the roller bore and not the shaft. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is not directed to what the invention pertains to as evidenced by the claims. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
4. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 6-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the housing of an automated banking machine" in lines 2-3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-6 and 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barela (US Patent 5,924,157).

With regards to claims 1 and 5, Barela discloses a method wherein a shaft 24 extends in a cylindrical opening of a roller body 16, the roller including a plurality of deflectable fingers that come to rest within an annular recess 30 on the shaft when the shaft is moved relative to the cylindrical opening, thereby locking the shaft relative to the roller body against longitudinal displacement, see column 4, lines 7-17. Applicant should note that the recitation of the roller being a "banking machine roller" amounts to an intended use and as such has not been given any patentable weight. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

For claims 2 and 3, see column 3, lines 20-25 and figure 2.

For claim 4, roller 16 rotates relative to the shaft when the fingers extend in the annular recess.

For claim 6, Applicant should note that the recitation of the shaft being "in supporting connection with the housing of an automated banking machine" amounts to an intended use and as such has not been given any patentable weight. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. There is no disclosed structure relating the shaft to the housing of the banking machine.

With regards to claim 17, Barela discloses an apparatus comprising a roller having a body 16 with a cylindrical opening therethrough, the opening adapted to accept a shaft 24, a plurality of radially inward extending deflectable fingers 54 in supporting connection with the body adjacent a first end of the cylindrical opening, the fingers adapted to engage an annular recess on the shaft and to hold the roller from moving axially relative to the shaft, see column 4, lines 7-17. Applicant should note that the recitations of the roller "being adapted to be used in cash dispensing automated banking machine" and the shaft being "a shaft of the banking machine" amount to an intended use and as such have not been given any patentable weight. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

For claims 18 and 19, see column 3, lines 20-25 and figure 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 7-16 and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
